THE GOOD LEAVES PROTECT TATTERED ONES

A well-known Vietnamese idiom “the good leaves protect tattered ones”, “lá lành đùm lá rách” highlights the action of helping those who are less fortunate and promotes the spirit of great national solidarity. With that, there are always people who need help around us, and we all should contribute something to help them out, if we can. At FPTU, volunteering projects to support disadvantaged children in rural areas are one of the regular activities.

The charity program “Warm Clothes for Children at Ha Giang Province”

The program has brought 3,000 gifts including beanies and warm clothes, 300 blankets and mats, 3,000 notebooks and pens, and more than 30,000,000 VND to children of ethnic minorities in the high mountains of Ha Giang province in Northern Vietnam.

The volunteering project “Flowers”

On November 27, 2022, Miracle Cloud - Safeguarding Children club successfully carried out the charity project “Flowers”. The project has brought meaningful gifts such as food, milk, books, bags, and financial supports (equivalent to 100,000,000 VND) to orphaned children at the Bamboo Village Humanitarian Center (Dong Nai province).

HOLA Vibes#6 - Music charity project

More than 10,000,000 VND from ticket fees and donations from participants was donated to disabled children at the Vietnam – Korea Rehabilitation Centre in Hanoi’s Quoc Oai District.

Volunteering project “Green leaf”

The “Green Leaf” volunteer project was founded by an FPTU Can Tho student with the goal of spreading love to those going through a tough time. The project gave the amount of 24,544,425 VND from the fundraising source to the family of Tran Duc Toan patient (child with leukemia). This gift helps him, and his family overcome difficulties during treatment.

“7-Day Experience” Annual Program

The program was given meaningful gifts (such as books, clothes, school supplies etc.) to students in difficult circumstances at Ta Nang Commune – a red land, poor mountainous commune of Lam Dong Province.

Volunteer Day of “Orange Shirts”

The program helps children under difficult circumstances at Thoi An Ward (District 12, Ho Chi Minh City) have a well preparation for the new school year by giving meaningful gifts such as clothes, books, bags, and other items.

HOPE SCHOOL

Hope School is a home to take care of children who lost their parents to the Covid-19 pandemic until they are 18 years old.

In 2022, The school received more than 300 children from across Vietnam and paid for their entire education and living expenses from first to 12th grades. Hope School was committed to receiving 1,000 orphans and would provide education for them in the next 20 years. In that year, 5 Hope School students got 100% scholarships to attend FPTU.

Hope School continues to expand to provide free education for more kids orphaned by COVID-19. Therefore, the school has officially started construction of its own buildings with usable area of more than 6,500 m².

The faculty, staff, and students at FPTU are increasingly creative in their charitable activities. They have built schools, run fundraisers, organized child-supporting programs, and given concerts in order to raise money for less fortunate kids.

“Women’s Heart - Pearl Heart” project

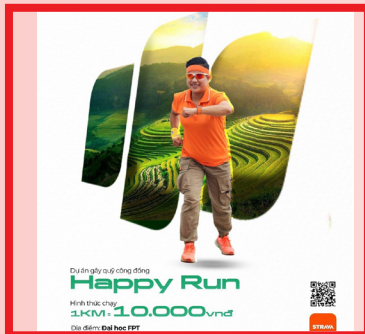

FPTU students performed traditional musical instruments in the project to fundraise for disadvantaged children with congenital heart.

Drawing classes for orphans and childhood cancers under difficult circumstances

These free classes are held every Sunday by FPTU’s lecturers and students.

Fundraising project – Happy Run FPTU

FPTU staffs and lecturers ran more than 1,391 km, which contributing 14,000,000 VND to the Hope Fund to support orphans.
